

Ray Diagrams - Mirrors

In each of the diagrams below draw the three rays necessary to determine the location of the image:

1. Parallel to the Principal Axis to the mirror and then reflecting through the focal point
2. Through the focal point to the mirror, then reflecting parallel to the principle axis.
3. Through the center of curvature and straight back.

Draw the image in its proper location to the proper size.

